Ellipse Sirius System: Intense Pulse Light Therapy (IPL)

Ellipse treatments for sun-damaged skin make your skin look smoother by removing age spots, other uneven pigmentation and diffuse redness. Your skin texture may also be improved and many women report that it becomes easier to apply makeup. Facial treatments are most popular, but all parts of the body can be treated. To do this, short, safe bursts of intense pulsed light (called SWT technology by Ellipse, but often referred to as a laser) are directed at the skin. The system filters the light to ensure the wavelengths used are absorbed by hemoglobin in the fine blood vessels and melanin in the age spots. When cells containing a lot of melanin or hemoglobin are treated, the target heats up and is destroyed within a few thousandths of one second

IPL for Pigmentation

Up to 2-4 treatments may be required with an interval of 1 month between treatments.

Permenant Hair Reduction with Ellipse Sirius

The unique Ellipse IPL system carefully filters light in two ways to ensure that only light with the correct characteristics (wavelength) is allowed to reach your skin. Hair contains pigment that absorbs the light and converts it to heat. The hair transmits this heat into the hair follicle which is then destroyed and unable to produce a new hair. As the treatment relies on absorption of light in the hair pigment, the most efficient treatment is seen with dark hair. The lighter the skin, the more pronounced the distinction between skin and hair colour, making treatment easier. However, Ellipse has pre-programmed settings for different hair and skin colours to adjust the energy output to your needs, so as long as the hair has colour, it can be treated. 6-8 treatments may be required at 6 week intervals. Shaving the area the day before is required with no sun exposure for 2 weeks prior to the treatment. Pre & Post care will be given prior to initial appointment. To ensure that as many hair follicles are targeted as possible, it is important not to pluck, tweeze, wax or use any kind of depilatory cream on the area for at least four weeks prior to treatment, or during the course of treatment.

The background of the entire image is a solid reddish-orange color. Overlaid on this background is a large, stylized leaf pattern. The pattern is composed of several overlapping leaf shapes, each defined by a thick, light-colored outline. The leaves are arranged in a way that they appear to be growing from a central point, with some leaves pointing upwards and others downwards. The overall effect is a modern, organic design.
